Death of an Old Citizen.

Mr. James Brodie, an old and very highly esteemed citizen of this county, died at his home near Jordan Springs in the 4th district on the 7th of August 1888, aged 80 years 4 months and 10 days. He was born in Granville county, North Carolina, on the 29th of March 1808, and came to Montgomery county with his parents in 1814, where he had resided since that early date. He embraced religion at an early period in life and joined the Methodist church of which he has always been a zealous member. He was married in 1830 to Miss Eliza M. Anthony of this county who survives him. The deceased was a most excellent citizen and possessed of traits of character that made him greatly loved and respected. His kindness was remarkable and his hospitality was widely known. Being a prominent member of the church his house was always a home for preachers and his doors were always open to his neighbors and numerous friends. He has gone to his reward in the fullness of years at the end of a long and well spent life.

The funeral was preached by the Rev. J. P. McFerrin and the remains interred in the family burying ground near the late residence of the deceased.

Dormitory Related.

Rev. T. M. Thorpe will deliver a course of five lectures at Trinity Church in this city, beginning 8 p. m., Sunday, and at the same hour each following Sunday until concluded. The lectures will be a refutation of Darwin and materialistic infidelity in general. Mr. Thorpe will undertake to show the falsity of the theory of evolution and combat the idea of a successive differentiation of species. He cannot be recommended by distinguished divines in New York and in the South, and his lectures are highly applauded by the press. We hope he will have such audiences as his subject merits. All who attend will no doubt be highly entertained and receive much wholesome instruction. There will be nothing bordering on the sectarian in the lectures and it is hoped that Christians of all denominations will attend. The lecturer will fight the scientist from their own standpoint and not ground his arguments on religious data.

Sale of Fine Jersey Cattle.

The sale of handsome Jersey cows advertised by Dr. E. R. W. Thomas for Monday Sept. 3, cannot fail to attract much attention and awaken a lively interest in the surrounding country. This famous butter family is rather scarce in this section and there seems to be a growing demand which makes the Jersey cow really cash at good figures. It is said that the country has the Jersey craze and breeders are running wild. If so the craze must be contagious, for this peculiar strain is constantly on a boom, and it is no wonder, if they are all like those offered by Dr. Thomas; any admirer of a fine milk cow—and who is not—will take the craze the very moment the eye rest upon one of these beautiful animals. We notice that Mr. Chinn sold 30 head at Frankford a few weeks ago at an average of over $800 and we doubt if they were any finer local cattle than Dr. Thomas' which have been selected from the most noted families for better records, no such prices however, are to be anticipated in this section. These cattle will doubtless sell very low, and no better opportunity will ever be offered, to buy a family pet, or start a herd.

Mr. John W. Faxon.

The announcement that Mr. John W. Faxon, of this city, will remove to Nashville causes very general regret among his many friends. He has been so long a resident of Clarksville, so thoroughly identified with this community, and, withal, so excellent a gentleman, that his loss is necessarily a great one. Mr. Faxon's father and family moved to Clarksville in 1843. He was then quite young and has ever since resided here. He enlisted in the 11th Tennessee regiment of the Confederate service at the beginning of the war, did excellent duty as a soldier and came out a battle-scarred veteran. He was elected assistant cashier of the Northern Bank of Tennessee in this city in 1868, and has filled that position with entire satisfaction up to this time. His valuable business capacity has been called into requisition in many ways in Clarksville. He has been for a long time Treasurer of the S. W. V. University and managed the books and finances of a number of minor organizations about the city. When an alderman he was made chairman of the finance committee and straightened the city's affairs out of an almost inextricable tangle. Among other things, we should not fail to mention that he has been the pleasing and versatile correspondent of the Courier-Journal from this place.

Mr. Faxon's genius for business and superior qualities as an accountant could not remain obscured any more than a light can be hid in the darkness, so when the American National Bank was recently organized in Nashville he was unanimously elected teller. This bank, of which E. W. Cole is president, will be one of the largest and most influential financial concerns in the South or West. It has a capital of $500,000 and the handsomest banking house in the United States, which will be completed by the 25th of August. The basement of the building has a safety vault that alone cost $25,000.

Mr. Faxon will leave for Nashville Monday and will immediately upon his duties. His family will remain here for some time yet. Clarksville can illly sustain the loss of so valuable a citizen, but while his many friends here regret his removal they extend him their warmest congratulations on his promotion to so important a position.

The Railroad.

The railroad to Princeton is fast assuming a tangible shape. One hundred and fifty hands are at work on it and nearly a mile of road bed has been completed. The rails are divided into two squads and work is carried on at both ends. The bed completed now reaches from a point on the river bank at the foot of College street to the race track, on the old pipe. The hands on the Northern end of the line are at work now between the two pikes.

MR. JAS. HENRATH of this city, has purchased the farm of Mrs. E. A. Winston in district No. 3 of this county. The farm contained 233 acres and the price paid was $8,000. It is one of the finest tracts of land anywhere in this vicinity. The price paid is an advance on the amount the same place brought a few years ago, and proves that real estate is holding its own if not appreciating in value.

BESSIE WOODSON, the infant daughter of Mr. J. W. and Mrs. Bettie Bailey, died at their residence on the Port Royal pike, four miles from the city, Monday afternoon. The infant took place at the family burying ground on Tuesday with services by Dr. Sears and Dr. Barbee. The child was eleven months old and remarkably bright and sprightly. The parents are very much sympathized with in their bereavement.
